The cooperative started with the community organizing in October, 2017 in our aim for a solid partnership and trust with the cooperative and most importantly, to empower our member-consumer-owners through strengthened information dissemination and networking with the barangay folks.

Aside from the barangays organized, the Cooperative also initiated organization in the municipal level and eventually federated them into a franchise-wide organization with Dr. Roselily E. Padre, MCO Chairperson, Aparri Chapter as the Federation President. Among the elected franchise-wide officers were Dr. Perfecto Vivit, Chairperson, Gonzaga Chapter as the Vice-President; Mr. Clifford Confidente, Chairperson, Lallo Chapter, as Secretary; Mr. Nestor Yere, Chairperson, Sta. Antiporda, BOD President as the inducting officer.

In her closing remarks, OIC, GM Ms. Blandina Y. Madamba expressed her unending thanks to these MCOO Chairpersons for their unceasing support to the cooperative and commitment to their new responsibility as leaders to their fellow MCOs.

"We cannot do it alone, but we can do it together", she declared as she laid down the challenges the Electric Cooperatives are now facing which will ultimately affect our MCOs.

"Let our organization exist to serve the best interest of our member-consumer-owners, because only in togetherness that there is power", she strongly ended.

The organization of all member-consumers from the grassroots level up to the coop-wide level shall intensify the MCOs as an implementing arm of the Cooperative to take action and build a movement to protect the gains of rural electrification. ###

PUSHING FOR TOTAL ELECTRIFICATION THROUGH STRONG COLLABORATION

NEA reaffirms commitment to total electrification

NEA urged the ECs to increase their efforts in reaching the country's remote and rural areas that have not been energized yet. As of end-August 2018, the Administrator said the overall level of consumer connections within the 121 ECs' coverage areas nationwide has reached 12,540,639 or 83 percent. Administrator Edgardo Masongsong made the call at the gathering of general managers of different ECs together with the different EC organizations namely the Philippine Rural Electric Cooperatives Association, Inc., (PHILRECA), National Association of General Managers of Electric Cooperatives, (NAGMEC) and the Central Luzon Electric Cooperatives Association (CLECA) on October 4 to discuss the progress of the government's total electrification program.

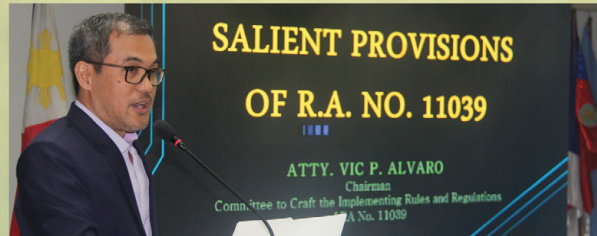

NEA, ERC collaborate to speed up approval of EC CapEx projects

On November 9, NEA met with the Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC) to discuss the possible initiatives aimed at fast-tracking the approval of the ECs' capital expenditure (CapEx) projects. Administrator Masongsong and ERC Chairperson Agnes Devanadera, together with other officials talked about the adoption of a planning tool called "enhanced Integrated Computerized Planning Model (e-ICPM)". The program is composed of four components namely, load forecast, technical, financial, and institutional.

NEA, ECs mobilized task forces to help restore power in typhoon-ravaged provinces in North Luzon

NEA and ECs mobilized anew task forces to help restore power in North Luzon in the aftermath of Typhoons Ompong (Mangkhut) and Rosita (Yutu). The estimated cost of damage to the distribution facilities of these ECs has reached P292,075 million. CAGELCO I suffered the most damage estimated at P77,703 million, followed by CAGELCO II at P75,677 and BENECA at P39,152 million. Before all restoration efforts were finished, Typhoon Rosita made landfall in Dinapigue, Isabela on October 30. The storm came more than a month after Typhoon Ompong left a path of destruction in 19 provinces in Luzon, including Isabela and Quirino. Twelve ECs in Central Luzon sent about 85 line workers, 12 boom trucks loaded with equipment, and eight utility vehicles to help with the power restoration efforts in the said provinces. Typhoon Rosita affected an estimated 108,012 households in eight provinces in Luzon covered by nine ECs to be without electricity.

NEA holds public consultation; fast-tracks drafting of IRR on EC emergency fund law

On October 24, 2018, a legal summit and public consultation on the draft implementing rules and regulations (IRR) of Republic Act 11039, also known as the "Electric Cooperatives Emergency and Resiliency Fund Act" was held at the NEA H.E.S Auditorium in Diliman, Quezon City. This was in response to the call of the Senate Committee on Energy chairman Sen. Sherwin Gatchalian to speed up the formulation of the IRR. Under the law, the NEA will manage and administer the ECERF, which will have an initial amount of P750 million to be taken from the National Disaster Risk Reduction and Management (NDRRM) Fund and will be released to the NEA Quick Response Fund for proper release to qualified ECs. The ECs are required to submit to the NEA their respective comprehensive and integrated disaster management programs, such as Vulnerability and Risk Assessments, Resiliency Compliance Plans, and Emergency Response Plans every year.

NEA, Toshiba sign MoU on hydrogen energy system development

NEA signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with Japanese firm Toshiba Energy Systems and Solutions Corp. to collaborate on the development of the first self-sufficient hydrogen energy system in the country. The MoU was signed by NEA Administrator Masongsong and Toshiba's Corporate Senior Vice President Fumio Otani on October 15 in a simple ceremony held at the NEA headquarters in Quezon City. The project includes grant funding from the Japanese government to conduct a feasibility study for the potential installation of the system in selected off-grid areas not connected to the main power grid covered by the electric cooperatives (ECs).

WHAT IS PHILRECA?

The Philippine Rural Electric Cooperatives Association, Inc. also known as PHILRECA 92 West is the national organization of the one hundred twenty-one (121) Electric Cooperatives (EC) operating in the country. Established in 1979, PHILRECA 92 West, the association, serves as the vanguard and defender of Electric Cooperatives' sustainability and existence working towards one mission—promoting the goals of the Rural Electrification Program (REP).

Celebrating its 40th Anniversary on August 2019, PHILRECA had its major accomplishments to wit: 1. Headed the nationwide protest against the NPC Power rate increase; 2. Successfully worked out cases filed with the Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC); 3. Worked hand in hand with the various EC Allied Organizations for the establishment of the One EC Network

Logos of the 121 Electric Cooperatives in the country formed into a light bulb with PHILRECA logo

Foundation; 4. Continued to be the EC representative to meetings and hearings on matters affecting the interests of the Electric Cooperatives and the Member-

Consumer-Owners (MCOs).

PHILRECA, the Philippines' Electric Cooperative Association, is formed primarily for the purpose of fostering nationwide interest of FILIPINOS as electricity consumers and encourage the growth of electric cooperatives as institution in the rural areas.

As threats of privatization have been introduced in the Rural Electric Cooperatives, PHILRECA believes that the REP is a powerful force to reckon with. Thus, PHILRECA Partylist is formed, to serve as a sectoral partylist as well as political party of the Electric Consumers in general, and Rural Energy Consumers in particular.

The association, considers that intensifying EC-MCO partnership through the 1 EC-MCO movement and sending of warm bodies in Congress would be a big step to overcome giant blocks that are preventing the continuance of the Rural Electrification program and the pursuit of its goal of Total Electrification in the country.

PHILRECA, being the instrument of the ECs in safeguarding the status of the RE program, calls out to every Member-Consumer-Owners (MCO) to support their electric cooperative in order to prevent the further privatization of rural electric cooperatives.
